DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-2, 10-19, 29-32, 34-44, 48-49, and 134, drawn to a method of inducing infertility in an animal comprising administering an antisense oligonucleotide that inhibits SMC1 β , which is SEQ ID NO:1 or SEQ ID NO:3 .

Group II, claim(s) 1, 10-32, 34-43, 48-49, and 134, drawn to a method of inducing infertility in an animal comprising administering a small molecule antagonist of SMC1 β .

Group III, claim(s) 1, 10-32, 34-43, 48-49, and 134, drawn to a method of inducing infertility in an animal comprising administering a peptidomimetic antagonist of SMC1 β .

Group IV, claim(s) 1, 10-32, 34-43, 48-49, and 134, drawn to a method of inducing infertility in an animal comprising administering an anti-SMC1 β antibody.

Group V, claim(s) 139, drawn to a method of diagnosing a disorder in an animal comprising determining the amount of SMC1 β in a sample.

Group VI, claim(s) 140, drawn to a composition comprising an agent that induces SMC1 β expression and a pharmaceutically acceptable carrier.

The inventions listed as Groups I-VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

37 CFR 1.475(b) states:

“An international or a national stage application containing claims to different categories of invention will be considered to have unity of invention if the claims are drawn only to one of the following combinations of categories:

- (1) A product and a process specially adapted for the manufacture of said product; or
- (2) A product and process of use of said product; or
- (3) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and a use of the said product; or
- (4) A process and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process; or
- (5) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process.

37 CFR 1.475(c) states:

“If an application contains claims to more or less than one of the combination of categories of invention set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, unity of invention might not be present.”

In view of 37 CFR 1.475 (b) and 37 CFR 1.475 (c), unity of invention is not present in the claims of the instant application because multiple processes and different categories of invention are claimed in the instant application.

Furthermore, according to the guidelines in Section (f)(i)(a) of Annex B of the PCT Administrative Instructions, the special technical feature as defined by PCT Rule 13.2 shall be considered to be met when all the alternatives of a Markush-group are of similar nature. For chemical alternatives, such as the claimed antitumor agents, the Markush group shall be regarded as being of similar nature when

(A) all alternatives have a common property or activity and

(B)(1) a common structure is present, i.e., a significant structure is shared by all of the alternatives or

(B)(2) in cases where the common structure cannot be the unifying criteria, all alternatives belong to an art recognized class of compounds in the art to which the invention pertains.

In the instant application, claim 17 contains a Markush-type claim language: “wherein said agent is selected from the group consisting of: a nucleic acid construct, a small molecule antagonist of SMC1 β , a peptidomimetic antagonist of SMC1 β , and an anti-SMC1 β antibody”.

The claimed agents are considered to be each separate invention for the following reasons:

The agents do not meet the criteria of (A) and (B)(1), because there is no common structure shared by all of the alternatives (e.g., compare a nucleic acid construct having nucleotides with an antibody having amino acids) and there is no common property shared by all of the alternatives (e.g., compare DNA/RNA-binding nucleic acid construct with peptide-binding antibody). Accordingly, unity of invention among the agents is lacking and each agent claimed is considered to constitute a special technical feature.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
